THE STORY . . .

Each time the Deadwood Stage rolls into town, it is 'Calamity Jane', the coach's guard who announces its arrival by firing her guns into the air, she then marches straight into the 'Golden Garter' Saloon. Always dressed in deerskins, she competes in a man's world by riding, shooting and acting like a man. This in fact is a cover up because she has a very feminine heart which is shown by her love for Danny Gilmartin a Cavalry Lieutenant from Fort Scully. Unfortunately, he does not love her but treats her more like one of his buddies.

The Town's Peace Officer, Wild Bill Hickock an ex professional gambler, continually pulls her leg about her lack of femininity and her wild exaggerations and tales of the Stage's journey through Indian Territory. Her boasting is always cause for laughter amongst the customers of the Golden Garter. Henry Miller, the proprietor of the Golden Garter books an actress from New York. When the 'actress' arrives it is a 'he', in fact 'Francis' Fryer and not a 'Frances' as he was expecting. The customers receive a nasty shock and nearly start a riot, but this is quelled by Calamity as she boastfully promises to bring Adelaide Adams from Chicago. Unfortunately, due to mistaken identity, Calamity returns to the Golden Garter with Katie Brown, a stage struck maid. She attempts to impersonate Adelaide Adams, which again causes the customers to riot but Calamity persuades them to let Katie do her own thing. Katie is a great success.

Complications arise when both Bill and Danny want to take Katie to a Ball at Fort Scully. They draw lots to stop an argument, but Calamity as ever surprises everyone, especially Wild Bill.

Calamity who suddenly finds herself at the centre of attraction discovers Katie kissing Danny, she explodes and tells Katie to get out of town but then discovers her 'Secret Love' and all ends happily.

The Society would like to express its thanks to the Colorado Wild West Club who have been of immense help with publicity photography, loan of equipment and in the selling of programmes. New members are always welcome to the club who's activities include Western dancing, Quick-draw competitions etc. The club is always willing to appear at summer fetes and other functions in a variety of costume which include, Cowboys, Indians, Confederate Army, Cavalry, Mexican, Pioneer etc. Full details can be obtained from Roy or Pam Prior at 2 Stockdale Gardens, Deal or Telephone Deal 367443.

The Society would like to express its thanks to Messrs Blaze Neon for their generosity in providing the Illuminated 'Calamity' sign.

The new Sierra Sapphire Ghia.

Now there's a brand new addition to Britain's best selling medium car, the Sierra Sapphire Saloon.

The model illustrated is the Sapphire Ghia. As you can see it's a very handsome car indeed. And it's not just a Sierra with a new front, bigger windows and numerous detail refinements. These include electrically operated windows, electrically operated and heated door mirrors, alloy wheels, graphical information module, high security locks, height adjustable drivers seat and a self search six speaker stereo. And, of course, optional anti-lock brakes.

Engines? 1.8, 2.0 and 2.0i with electronic fuel injection. All available with 5 speed manual or 4 speed automatic gears. Come and see the new Sierras - Hatchback, Saloon and Estate.
